

Yale's new president, Dr. James Rowland Angell (at left), and the retiring president, Dr. Arthur T. Hadley, at the commencement exercises. Copyright, Paul Thompson.

Above—Part of the Yale commencement procession. Left to right: President Angell, Dr. Hadley, retiring president; Anson Phelps Stokes, Wilton Walker, Gov. Everett Lake of Connecticut, George P. Day. Copyright, Paul Thompson.

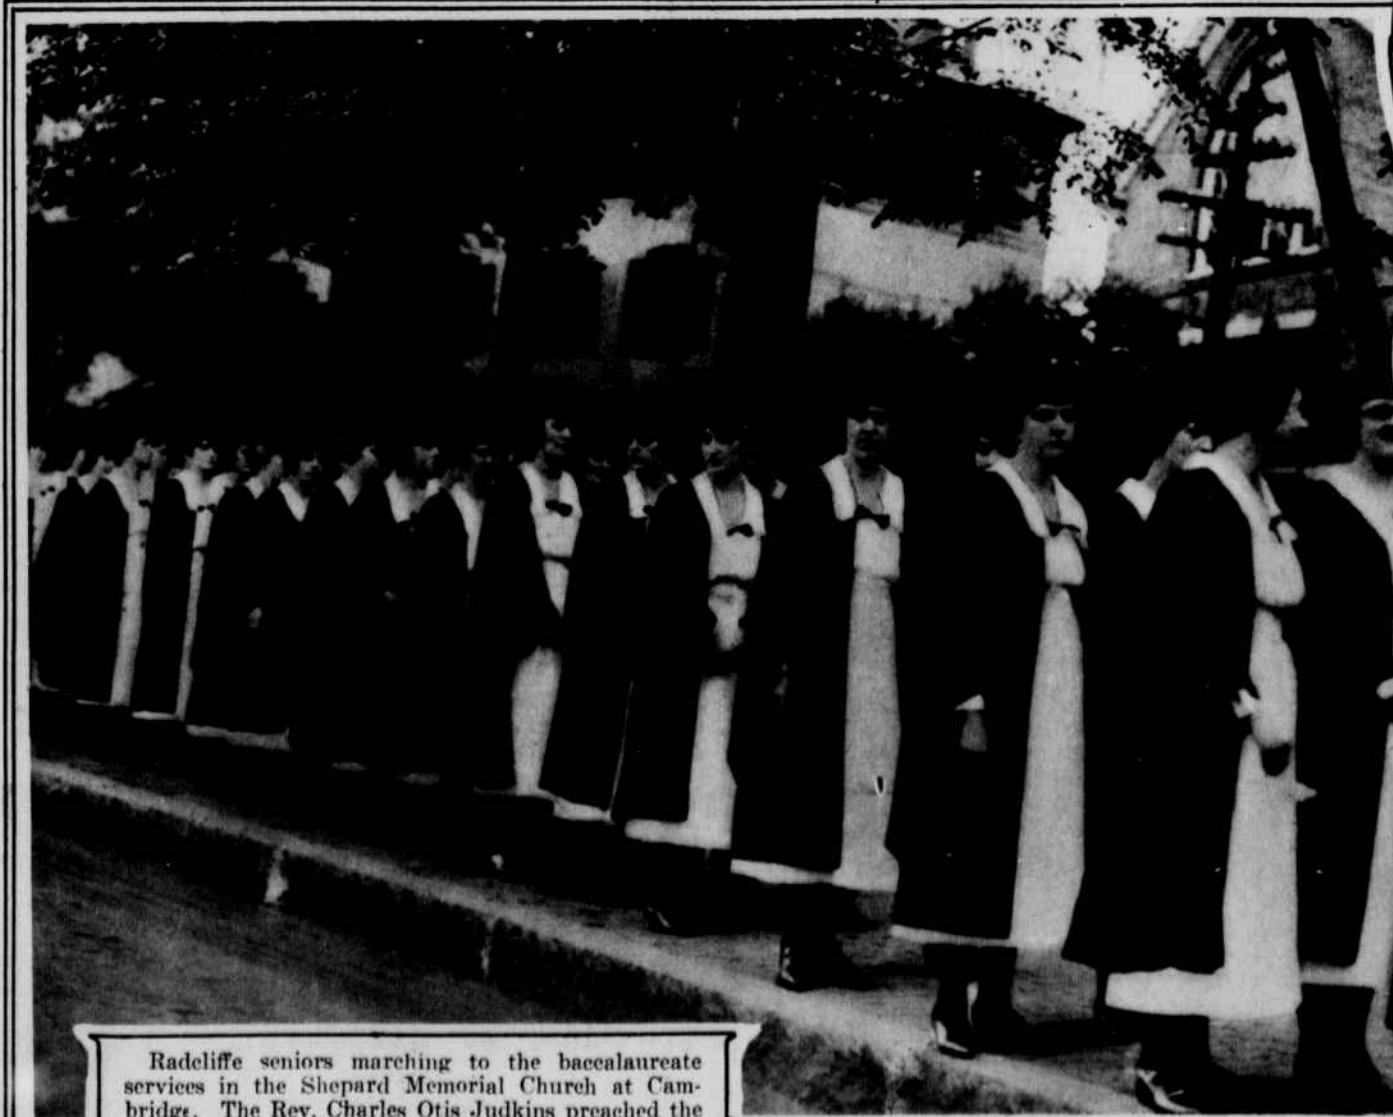

John W. Weeks, Secretary of War, delivering his address at Tufts College commencement, College Hill, Medford, Mass. Secretary Weeks received an honorary degree from the college. Underwood & Underwood.

Harvard seniors marching to Appleton Chapel, Cambridge, Mass., for the baccalaureate sermon, which was delivered by President Lowell. Underwood & Underwood.

Harvard and Yale grads, Classes of 1911, shooting craps at the recent Harvard-Yale baseball game in New Haven. Paul Thompson.

Radcliffe seniors marching to the baccalaureate services in the Shepard Memorial Church at Cambridge. The Rev. Charles Otis Judkins preached the sermon. Underwood & Underwood.

Some of the notables who took part in Colgate University's one hundred and second commencement. Left to right: George W. Cobb, president of Colgate Alumni Corporation; Sidney M. Colgate, president of the Board of Trustees; Dr. Melbourn S. Read, acting president of the university; James C. Colgate, secretary of the Board of Trustees; Gov. Nathan L. Miller of New York; Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale; William A. Prendergast, chairman Public Service Commission, and William Travers Jerome, Jr.